

Cara Little is currently employed as an attorney for the Department of the Navy (DON), Office of the General Counsel (OGC), where she serves as a Supervisory Associate Counsel in the Acquisition Integrity Office (AIO). Ms. Little joined OGC in 2005 as part of OGC's advance commitment program, serving as acquisition counsel at the Military Sealift Command (MSC) Headquarters (HQ), from 2005-2009. From 2009-2013 and again from 2019-2021, Ms. Little served as a senior acquisition program attorney at the Naval Sea Systems Command (NAVSEA) HQ, advising clients on major weapons systems and associated support service acquisitions. From 2013-2018, Ms. Little served as the Contracts and Compliance Manager at the University of Colorado, Boulder's Laboratory for Atmospheric and Space Physics (LASP), responsible for oversight of all compliance matters for LASP, in support of NASA and National Science Foundation sponsored research projects, as well as domestic and international commercial aerospace collaborations. Ms. Little also has extensive experience with Other Transaction Authority, intellectual property, and U.S. export control regulations.

Ms. Little is the recipient of the Department of the Navy's Meritorious Civilian Service Award and the Department of the Navy's Acquisition Excellence Award.

Ms. Little is a graduate of the University of Maryland School of Law and received her undergraduate degree from American University. She is admitted to practice in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.